
Student Accommodation

LFA assists their students by providing them with a wide selection of rooms in David Game College's student Residences, or other alternatives in the neighbourhood.

The most important non-academic problem a student faces is finding a place with the best atmosphere in which to live and study, at the right cost. Rates for renting accommodation in London are extremely high.

Our accommodation policy is very flexible. Many students like to book a room in a College Residence for at least the first few weeks of their time in London, so that they can settle down, start their courses and then look around if they wish. Only one week's notice is required if a student wishes to move out of LFA accommodation. Alternatively, a student may prefer to move to a different room within LFA accommodation. If the room is available, this can be arranged at any time.

Rooms are provided with: TV, washbasins with hot and cold water, central heating, fridge, desk, kettle, table lamp(s), crockery and cooking utensils. Bed linen is provided but students must bring their own towels. Most kitchens and bathrooms are shared. There are self-contained flats also available.

At present our Residences in Central London are at: Earl's Court (SW5), Fulham Road (SW10), Fairholme Road (W14), Shepherd's Bush (W12) and Dawes Road (SW6).

A short walk is required (approx. 10-15 minutes) to reach the LFA from many of the Residences.

At a cost of £75-95 per week for a shared room and £90-130 per week for a single, the LFA residences offer excellent value for money.

There is a warden responsible for each building who ensures the students respect the LFA regulations and who is there to help with any problems.

For those students not wishing to cater for themselves LFA will find half-board accommodation with families for the price of £130-140 per week. These families are specially selected for their friendly and caring attitude towards overseas students. Most families are between 30 and 45 minutes' journey from the Academy.
